All cast and crew are asked to pay subs of £375 (in instalments) towards the cost of going to the Fringe. This sum covers all your food, drink and accommodation during rehearsals and in Edinburgh, as well as transport to Edinburgh.

1. ACCOMMODATION

We want everyone to have the best possible time in Edinburgh. Because we operate on a tight budget, there are compromises - we can't guaranteed bed-space every night, for example, but realise that there are a different range of budgets and desires and will try to accommodate wherever possible. On a scale of 1 to 10, in an ideal world would you prefer:

Any piece of floor available.
Cheaper option
(Approx £50 cheaper)

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10

A bed as often as possible.
More expensive
(Approx £50 dearer)

QUIET FLAT
Radio 4 and an early night

PARTY FLAT
Who needs sleep when we have gin.

2. TRAVEL

W will travel up to Edinburgh together from the city where rehearsals have been held, after the preview the night before. Unlike previous years we do not intend to arrange return travel unless the additional cost is minimal.

Please tick here if you have a driver's license and would be willing to co-drive a props van from London to Edinburgh.

Please tick here if you will be driving yourself up to Edinburgh. You will be entitled to reimbursement equivalent to the cost of further transport unless:

You are willing to take passengers (please tick) - how many? 1 / 2 / 3 / ____

You are willing to take props (please tick)

in which cases you are likely to be further reimbursed.

4. MEDICAL

Please note below any other allergies and any medical information it would be useful for us to know. This is entirely to make sure you're as comfortable as possible in Edinburgh; feel free to leave this field blank!

5. RE-PAYMENT DETAILS

Two Shades of Blue operates a company profit share system - we all share in the costs of putting the shows on, and we all share in whatever ticket sales we make. We will be asking each cast and crew member to contribute £375, but we hope to be able to give some of that back (a good incentive to flyer hard and sell tickets!) Please tell us how you would like to be paid your share - either bank account details for a transfer or an address for a cheque.

IMPORTANT BIT, PLEASE READ:

In filling out and returning this form, you must be fully committed to the shows. You must also be prepared to pay Two Shades of Blue a £375 contribution to the show costs, as outlined above. This is split into three instalments of £125 due by the end of May, June and July. You must also agree to flyer like a dæmon and be prepared to generally muck-in when in Edinburgh!
